

The background is a detailed topographic map of East Asia, likely showing a region in China or Korea. It features a dense network of roads, rivers, and contour lines. Large red Chinese characters are overlaid on the map, indicating cardinal directions: '北' (North) at the top, '東' (East) on the right, '中' (Center) in the middle, '西' (West) on the left, and '南' (South) at the bottom. The map also shows various urban centers and industrial zones, with some areas marked by red lines and dots.
